NEAR WAR OVER SPOILS

Turkey Reported to Have Sent A Large Army to Bulgarian Border

Washington, Sept. 11.—Information raeched here yesterday from a source usually reliable that Turkey has sent a large force to the border of Bulgaria, where trouble is brewing over division of territorial spoils of war between these two allies of Germany and Austria-Hungary.

The possibility of open conflict between Turkey and Bulgaria is watched here with great interest and is known to be causing serious misgivings at Berlin. The revolutionary spirit is rife in the Bulgarian Army and among the civil population, according to reports. The Bulgarians want more territory and are said to be determined to secure all of Serbia and even a portion of Austria. They already have secured a strip off northern Turkey, including one-half of the city of Adrianople.

Another cause for dissention is the fact that when Bulgaria was awarded the Dobrudja in the Roumanian peace treaty dictated by Germany Turkey demanded the cession of that portionof its northern territory that had previously been given Bulgaria as a reward for entering the war on the side of the Central Powers.

The recent resignation of Premier Radoslav, of Bulgaria, is said to have been caused by his inability to secure more territory and his unwillingness to betray the Central Powers. The new Premier, Malinoff, is believed here to be a figurehead, who will accept the dictation of Germany, but the army and the populace are not satisfied with the situation.

It is said that Admiral von Hintze, the German Foreign Minister, went to German headquarters Monday night to confer with Field Marshal von Hindenburg regarding a change in the chancellorship. Hintze, it is believed, will report the result of his conferences in Vienna.

Lieuts. A. B. Stephenson, of Bristol, Conn., and Walter S. Keeling, of Dallas, Texas, were killed yesterday morning when their airplane fell north of Fort Worth, Texas. Both were attached to Carruthers fied.

Don't fail to see Kerensky and the Russian Revolution, also Billy West, Friday at the Grand Theater. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

James Davis, colored, sentenced to serve a term of seven years in the penitentiary for the shooting and killing of J. C. Shelhorse a state prohibition inspector, was taken to the penitentiary yesterday afternoon by Guard Smith.

A jury in Davis' case August 14, after a two days' trial, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree and fixed Davis' punishment at seven years in the penitentiary.

The shooting of Shelhorse took place aboard a southbound train just as it was entering this city when Shelhorse endeavored to take part in the arrest of Davis on suspicion of bootlegging. Davis, as soon as he encountered Shelhorse, shot him. Shelhorse lived only a few hours afterward. Davis jumped from the train and was captured after a short chase. His plea was self defense.

HEAVY RAINS ON FRONT

It is the first really bad weather in weeks and has imposed a temporary halt upon large-scale infantry operations. Only local fighting is reported by Field Marshal Haig in his night bulletin on the battle in front of the Hindenburg line. It took place west of Gouzeacourt and Epehy, in the center of the British line fronting the St. Quentin-Cambrai sector. In Flanders the British moved their lines ahead slightly northwest of Neuve Chapelle and west of Armentieres.

An unofficial report late yesterday told of British patrols having reached Fresnoy-le-Petit, which lies slightly more than three miles northwest of St. Quentin.

The French made substantial progress just before the downpour started between St. Quentin and La Fere. All communications between these half-encircled bastions in the Hindenburg line are under terrific shellfire from the French and American guns, and are virtually cut.

In their converging movement on St. Quentin Gen. Humbert's French forces have captured the four principal routes leading to the city from the south and west.

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—German war correspondents report to their papers that Douai, the great base in the Hindenburg line between Lille and Cambrai, is being evacuated by the Germans. The bulk of the civilian population already is out of the town, the correspondents assert.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Latest advices from the battle-front appear in a particularly optimistic light when coupled with the significant statement made by Secretary of War Baker to the French press today:

"This is time for deeds, not words."

"If there's any talking now to be done, the soldiers now have all the say."

"Let them drive home their arguments with bayonet and rifle, while the guns provide the punctuation."

The American war secretary's declaration leads commentators in the leading French organs to the conclusion that interesting deevlopments are in store at the front.

Although Maurice Barres, writing in the Echo De Paris, expressed the opinion that there will now be a momentary lull in the allied offensive, news from the front late yesterday shows the relentless French pressure continues, despite the downpour, and that St. Quentin and aL Fere are imminently menaced.

RICHMOND TONIGHT

There are few more talented or better known actors on the American stage than John Barrymore popularly known as "Jack" to his admirers. Mr. Barrymore recently returned to the field of the silent drama under the Paramount banner and his first offering, "On the Quiet," a delightful comedy will be the attraction at the Richmond tonight.

Mr. Barrymore was seen here sometime ago in "The Man From Mexico" and "Are You a Mason?" two enormously successful Paramount photoplays, but it is said his characterization of a rather wild Yale student in "On the Quiet" exceeds in interest and attractiveness his portrayals in those famous photoplays. Mr. Barrymore is a comedian of exceptional ability and it is a certainty that he will add vastly to his reputation by his work in this charming comedy.

A Mack Bennett comedy will be shown.

MUZZLES POPULACE

German Autocratic Militarists Order All "Bad" News Halted.

"Stupid, babbling, thoughtless talk, and in some instances a purpose of treason, rumors destitute of any real basis spread among the people exaggerate the enemy's temporary successes and his strength, question our own power of resistance, and intend to undervalue the admirable deeds of our valorous soldiers, who victoriously resist their adversaries."

This official notice, according to an official dispatch from Berne yesterday, preceded the official decree from Gen. von Linsingen declaring the Province of Brandenburg, which includes Berlin, in a state of siege. The message also gives the exact terms used in the principal part of the decree, as follows:

"Any one guilty of carrying about, without leave, rumors either false or likely to spread anxiety among the population, even if he does not guarantee the truth of these rumors and contests their accuracy, will be punished. In case the now standing laws will not inflict a more severe punishment on him, he shall be confined for one year. If his case admits of some excuse, he shall receive lesser confinement or a fine to the amount of 1,500 marks."

Don't forget to registeb tomorrow. Places open from 7 a. m., until 9 p. m.

TRIUMPHANT ALLIES

Haig Says Dark Days Are Over And Foe Has Spent His Effort.

London, Sept. 11.—"We have passed through many dark days. Please God these will never return," says Field Marshal Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France, in an order of the day. The commander then says: "The enemy has now spent his effort."

"One month has now passed since the British armies, having successfully withstood all the attacks of the enemy, once more took the offensive in their turn. In that short space of time by a series of brilliant and skilfully executed actions we have repeatedly defeated the same German armies whose vastly superior numbers compelled our retreat last spring. What has happened on the British front has happened also on the front of our allies.

"Less than six months after the launching of the great German offensive, which was to have cut the Allied front in two, the Allied armies everywhere today are advancing victoriously side by side over the same battle field on which by the courage and steadfastness of their defense they broke the enemy's assaults.

"Yet more has been done, already we have pressed beyond our old battle lines of 1917 and have made a wide breach in the enemy's strongest defences.

"In this glorious accomplishment all ranks, arms and services of the British armies in France have borne their part in the most worthy and honorable manner.

"The capture of 75,000 prisoners and 750 guns in the course of four weeks fighting speaks for the magnitude of your efforts and the magnificence of your achievement.

"My thanks are due to all ranks of the fighting forces for their indomitable spirit in defense and their boldness in attack, to all commanders and their staff officers under whose able direction such great results have been attained and also to all those whose unsparing labors behind the actual fighting line have contributed essentially to the common cause. To have commanded this splendid army which at a time of grave crisis has so nobly done its duty fills me with pride.

"We have passed through many dark days together. Please God these never will return. The enemy now has spent his effort and we rely confidently on each one of you to turn to full advantage the opportunity your skill, courage and resolution have created."

COMMUNITY SERVICE NEEDS

One of the most enjoyable ways for the man in uniform to pass his time when in the city is to play the piano, but many of them unfortunately have not learned this art, but all would enjoy the use of a vistrola and records, if these were provided in the different clubs. There is a need for these at the War Camp Community Service Club at the Elks' Hall, also at the Odd Fellows' Club being fitted up for the colored sodiers. Here is an opportunity for those wishing to donate machines and records.

Those wishing to contribute such shoud communicate with H. H. Van Wie, secretary; phone 391.

BIG MUNITIONS PLANT FOR ALEXANDRIA

SITE ON RIVER FRONT—WILL EMPLOY 2

Representative Carlin, in Midst of Campaign, Lands for His Home Biggest Enterprise in Northern Virginia—Senator Swanson Aids—Chamber of Commerce Does the Rest—Property Owners Fair in Prices—Must Vacate at Once—Buildings Will Cover Area Bounded By Cameron And Lee Streets, Fayette Alley And Potomac River.

Announcement was made today by the Chamber of Commerce that this city had secured the biggest industry in its history. The Gazette has been kept advised about the activities of the Chamber of Commerce, but, in the interest of the success of the project this is the first publication of the plans which have now so successfully culminated.

The detailed story of the preliminary work and the accomplishment is interesting. On the morning of July 3rd, Congressman C. C. Carlin, ever alert to the interest of his native city and while in the midst of a campaign when his rights to represent this district were being contested, called up the Chamber of Commerce by telephone and stated that an appropriation had been made for a torpedo plant and that a committee had been directed to look here for a building site. He advised that immediate action be taken by the Chamber to secure its location in this city. Within an hour a committee visited the Commandant of the Washington Navy Yard and invited that officer to visit Alexandria in an effort to find a suitable location for the proposed plant. Captain Willard, Commandant of the Navy Yard and other officers visited this city on July 11, 1918, and on July 31st Rear Admiral Ralph Earle and Lieutenant Commander Wright were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce and then followed long and tedious details which were worked out under the direction of J. Y. Williams Business Manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

On August 7th, 1918, a letter was received by the Chamber of Commerce from Rear Admiral Earle, making the following announcement:

"I am pleased to advise you that under date of August 5, 1918, the Secretary of the Navy aproved the erection of the torpedo plant at Alexandria, Virginia.

After examining the proposed sites pointed out by you we have selected the location bounded by Cameron street on the north, Lee street on the west, Fayette alley on the south and the Potomac River on the east.

In connection with the establishment of this plant, and in order that its construction may be proceeded with as rapidly as possible, the Bureau would appreciate your assistance from time to time in matters relating to the purchase of the property, necessary rights of way, etc."

Immediately upon receipt of this letter options were secured by the Chamber of Commerce from all the property owners within the boundary of Cameron street on the north, Lee street on the west, Fayette alley on the south and the Potomac River on the east. The property owners gave options at prices which are considered to be extremely fair to the government. These options were immediately delivered to Judge Graham Fitzhugh Patterson, Solicitor of the Navy Department, who today served notice upon the present property owners to vacate the land and buildings within the prescribed area, so that work can proceed as soon as the present tenants have completed moving arrangements. A surveying party is on the land today making a survey, getting elevations, etc. The work of demolition will be started, it is said, within three weeks.

A torpedo assembling plant is one of the most attractive of governmental industries because of the large number of highly skilled mechanics necessary in the assembling of torpedoes. Two thousand men will be employed here. The shops to be erected will be four-story reinforced concrete structures, extending west and east from Lee street to Union street and, from Union street to the river, and a two-story reinforced concrete building, these buildings to extend north and south from Cameron street to Fayette alley.

Senator Claude A. Swanson has been deeply interested and has cooperated in securing this plant for Alexandria. The following letter was received from him on July 26th, 1918:

"Immediately after talking with you by phone I wrote Admiral Earle,

BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Elaborate Program at Enlisted Men's Club Under Auspices of Jewish Welfare Association—Talent From Camp Humphreys Participates.

An elaborate musical program was given last night at the War Camp Community Service Club under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare Board which was attended by a capacity audience and which was participated in by some of the best talent from New York and other big cities now doing their bit for Uncle Sam at Camp Humphreys to help make the world safe for democracy.

Morris Youngman, acting rabbi of the Jewish Temple, a student at the Hebrew College, Cincinnati, addressed the large audience that filled the hall. He explained the work of the Jewish Welfare Board and its relation to camp work.

It was pointed out by the speaker that the Jewish faith carried certain restrictions as to food and that now the Hebrews have this matter settled at the different camps.

The program was under the direction of Frank Astor, Jewish Welfare Worker at Camp Humphreys, and included solos by David Rudnick, Arthur Williamson; Al Pollock gave a sketch, and Edwin Ash rendered a violin solo. Solos also were given by George Kreer, Will Dillon, Jack Handle "Happ" Jack Lambert. A bit of comedy entitled "Our Clown Sketch" was given by Cohen and Pollock. Banjo selections were given by Andy Tipaldi.

The orchestra was under the direction of William Ufert and was composed of Maurici Jazo, Edwin Ash, Andrew Egner, Casper Kubli.

At the conclusion of the program the participants were given refreshments and afterward there was dancing under the chaperonage of Mrs. R. P. Whitestone, Mrs. R. Bluemenfeld, Mrs. B. Weil, Mrs. Dreifus, Miss S. Ruben, Mrs Bendheim and Miss Amelia Genzberger.

The program for day in connection with "Play Week" will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the playgrounds and it is expected that Representative C. C. Carlin will deliver an address. The program provided will consist of a patriotic pageant, folk dances, a flag drill.

It will be under the direction of Miss Ruth Beahl who will be assisted by Miss Evelyn Howard.

THINGS COMING OUR WAY

During the last days of the year 1917, when bleak winter was making itself felt, a mass meeting of Alexandrians was held in the Opera House. The meeting had been called to hear the confirmation of reports which had been going the rounds for some time to the effect that Alexandria was to have a mammoth shipbuilding plant, and that this would rise on what had been known as Baptizing Cove, long since reclaimed by the dredging of the river. The gentlemen forming the management of what is now the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, with several Alexandrians, including Hon. C. C. Carlin, occupied seats upon the stage. The vast assemblage was enthused when our Representative in Congress outlined what was in store for his native city—the placing of a shipbuilding plant here which would employ thousands of men. During Mr. Carlin's speech he said other surprises were also in store for Alexandria which would be equally as important to our commercial growth as the new shipyard. The speaker did not go into details, but he implied that ere long Alexandrians would again have cause to rejoice.

During the past few weeks it has been known that about three-fourths of the square bounded by Cameron, Lee, Fayette alley and Union streets and east from Union street to the port warden's line had been selected by the government as the site for a mammoth building, four stories high, which will be placed in that area. Torpedoes are to be manufactured in this place, and we are told the services of at least two thousand skilled workmen will be needed.

It is also rumored that the government will eventually take possession of the old ferry wharf, and it is suggested that later the southern end of the square will be needed, which will result in the extension of the purposed structure to King street.

The property acquired by the government forms old landmarks. In ante bellum days it was a busy spot and added no little to Alexandria's commercial importance. Fox's tavern stood on the northeast corner of Union street and Fayette alley, while the slip of the ferry steamer Alice Fox was half a square east. Several commission stores were situated upon this square in the olden time.

Alexandria has quietly awaited her day while the sun of prosperity has been rising upon other places in the Old Dominion. Disappointed at the failure to secure the armor plant, she never lost hope, and now that things are coming her way we all realize that we have much for which to be thankful.

SALE OF LIQUOR

Notwithstanding the vigilance of the members of the police force, as well as that of the military police, liquor it is believed is still disposed of in Alexandria. Several "drunks" have been arrested during the past two or three days. It is believed they procure liquor in this city. An old offender was arrested Sunday for being drunk on the street. He later left $5 collateral for his appearance Monday morning, but failed to show up. Yesterday afternoon he was picked up again while drunk and disorderly. Upon being searched three half-pint bottles of whisky were found upon him. Two were full and one half-full. He was later released upon leaving $10 colateral for his appearance this morning, but he could not be found when the case was called.

Should present plans mature, bootlegging is going to be an extremely difficult profession in which to make a living.

At a conference held a few days ago between William Pepper Constable, president of the Baltimore Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, and Major Raymond W. Pullman, superintendent of police of Washington, the former agreed to line up the Baltimore retailers and submit what is known as the "one quart" proposition.

This "one quart" idea will be almost in the nature of an ultimatum as far as the dealers are concerned. When it becomes effective, and it will be soon, no person will be able to buy any more or any less than a quart of bottled intoxicating liquor.

Therefore a bootlegger will have another hardship to contend with. He cannot very well hide a quart bottle and it is with difficulty that quart bottles are illegally sold. Pints and half-pints are sold easily enough, but a quart is a rare occurence. Furthermore for a bootlegger to get a supply, it will be necessary for him to go from saloon to saloon and even then he may be suspicioned as most of them are known in Baltimore.

Should the saloon keepers of Baltimore fail to live up to this agreement once it is made, the Federal authorities are said to be waiting to step in and clean up the city as far as saloons are concerned.

BOYCOTT OF GERMANY

The thinking people of Germany have for some time been anticipating with anxiety conditions which are sure to follow this terrible war. The financiers especially are viewing with alarm the boycott of the Fatherland after the sword shall have been sheathed.

Gentle pacifist souls are distressed by this rapidly spreading movement, but their protests are not likely to stay the botter resentment of which it is a symp[illegible]

There is no punishment to fit German crimes ;justice is bound to be administered imperfectly in an imperfect world. But it would be a mockery of all we hold most sacred if the deviltries that almost shame hell itself were to find an oblivious antidote in a sentimental pity for the criminals. It was partly as a business enterprise that Germany went into the war. Even now she is planning how to make it pay in defeat. Will any patriotic American play the role of accomplice?

Made in Germany!

Yes, the rape of Belgium, the sinking of the Lusitania and all the other ships that have carried women and children to their ocean graves, the torture, the pillage, the destruction, the desecration of sacred shrines, the cold-blooded murder of the helpless, the handing over of innocent girls to a fate worse than death—all these things were made in Germany. And for that we are to stretch out hands in brotherly friendship when peace is declared, to buy German goods, to sail in German ships, to let what the world has suffered be as if it had not been. No, not while this generation of Germans exists, if we have red blood in our veins.

Hate is a feeling not to be lightly cultivated. Vengeance, no matter how righteous, too easily leads to excesses from which we rightly shrink. But a people incapable of the just indignation which Germany has evoked, ready to be placated by the first sign of superficial repentance, would not deserve the freedom for which such sacrifices have been offered.

Made in Germany!

The words should be a memorial of an incredible crime for many years to coms.

WILL RESTORE HOUR

The hour which dropped from the life of every man, woman and child in this country at 2 o'clock on the morning of March 31 last, will be handed back by the United States Government at 1 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, October 27 next, when the "daylight-saving" plan comes to its official and practical demise.

The plan has been a success. There was much and diverse objection to it when it was first suggested. Even after it became a legal actuality, there were some folks, living in outlying sections, who refused to get in line with the new order of things and who manifested their contempt for that new order of things by keeping two clocks in their homes—one set up an hour, as per Governmental orders, and the other giving the old or solar time.

Now that the outdoor weather is about on the wane, the return to the old schedule of things will not be any more of an inconvenience than was the adoption of the new one. At 1 o'clock on the morning of October 27 all the official clocks in the country will be turned back to midnight, and thus the hour which was lost on March 31 will be restored. No revision of working schedules, meal schedules, train schedules, etc., will be necessary. The whole time-schedule system will merely be shoved back an hour, and solar rather than governmental time again will reign.

WANTS TO GET A HUN SAYS WOUNDED SOLDIER

By E .A. Batchelor.

Paris, Sept. 1. (By Mail)—German military men prate of their "shock troops," and say that the American army will not be a factor in the war until it has had a chance to qualify some of its units for this title. The Huns mean it takes months of field experience to put soldiers in the right, condition to carry on modern warfare.

The Boche high command overlooks one feature. The United States army is made up of Americans. An American achieves "shock" caliber very fast. The Chauteau-Thierry map with its heavy line, marking the front, constantly moving toward Germany proves it.

The wounded boy that was brought into the dressing station that night was not a "shock" trooper. He had been in France only a few months. He hardly had heard of war until the United States decided to take a hand. He was just a plain American lad from a New England factory town.

A shrapnel shell had burst right over his head. Two of the fragments had found lodging places on his body. The stretcher-bearers had loaded him into an ambulance and brought him over a lumpy road to the dressing station to a barn. Big German shells were bursting nearby when they carried his strectcher into the barn.

A Y. M. C. A. man had given him a cigarette just as they were getting him out of the ambulance. He was feeling much better as he inhaled the comforting smoke. The doctor looked him over by the light of a candle, which flickered and almost went out as the shells rent the atmosphere outside.

"Down in the wheatfield," replied the boy. "I fell flat on my face when I heard the shell coming and it's lucky that I did, for our trumpeter wasn't quick enough and it tore him all to pieces. Damn them he was the best kid in the company. My gas mask probably saved me. Say, doc, you ought to see it. That shrapnel just nautrally wrecked it.

"You will get a nice long rest now" said the doctor, as he examined the gaping wound in the boy's back. "You are lucky for you will be sent to a base hospital and given everything you want."

"Rest, Rot," said the boy. "I don't want any rest. I want to get a shot at the fellow that killed our trumpeter. Say, lieutenant, this in a pleading tone. "Can't you fix me up here and mark me for duty?" I want to get a Hun.

PRICE OF MILK

The question of the price farmers supplying milk to Washington should receive for their product is not one for the local food administrator to decide, Clarence R. Wilson, food administrator of the District, told members of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association, at their annual convention in the District building yesterday.

Several weeks ago a committee left with Mr. Wilson a statement showing items or increased cost of producing milk during the seven months' period beginning October 1, aggregating 6 1-2 cents a gallon.

Mr. Wilson told the producers yesterday that, after caefully studying the figures presented and hearing the oral testimony of producers, he could find nothing unjust or unreasonable in their request for the higher price.

The new schedule of prices which go into effect October 1 will provide for 40 cents a gallon for milk of 3.5 per cent butterfat, delivered in Washington, as compared with 33 1-2 cents last winter.

TELLS OPPORTUNITY OF LABOR

"It is a wonderful opportunity for service in defense of human rights that is now presented to the wage earners of America," says John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers.

"We hear it said that food will win the war, that ships will win the war, that men and munitions will win the war. Men, munitions, food, and ships are all absolutely vital to victory, but we can reduce them all to one thing when we say that work will win the war.

"To put the strength of our great Nation on the battle front of France, to back up the men who have been called to the colors and are now giving their lives that democracy may not perish from the earth, we here at home must work as we have never worked before.

"With our hands and brains, by toil and sacrifice, we must provide the ships and destroyers and aeroplanes,

Wash the Socks You Knit with Grandma's Powdered Soap

Many inferior soaps are made with rosin and when you wash woolen socks with them it causes the socks to shrink and get hard and knot up. Countless hours spent in knitting have been lost just because the socks have been practically ruined by improper washing.

GRANDMA'S Powdered Soap

Follow these directions and you will never have any trouble. Use GRANDMA in luke warm water and wash the socks in the wonderful suds. Then rinse in luke warm water, shake them out well (do not wring) and hang them up to dry slowly.

GRANDMA is the most economical and finest "all round" household soap that can be used. You measure it out with a spoon—no waste. Try it.

RETREAT INTO BELGIUM

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—That the Germans are preparing for a great retreat into central Belgium is indicated by information received here today.

The German military authorities have begun to build a chain of fortifications on the line of Liege, Ghent and Bruges and have started to remove the civilian population from the fortress of Maubeuge, in France.

Maubeuge is near the Belgian frontier.

the guns and ammunition, food, fuel, and clothing, all the infinite variety of war necessities without which our armies will be powerless.

"Millions of our people are now toiling on farms, in factories, in shipyards to produce cargoes and carriers to be sent across the Atlantic. This is the great work that must be carried on by the army that stays at home, the army of the workers.

"Thework that one man does at home may seem to him very small, too small to be measured on the battle front, but it is only through the toil of the industrial workers, each doing his part, that the big job can be done."

The Bolshevik government has signed another supplemental treaty with Germany providing for war on the Allies. This information came to the State Department yesterday in a message from Ambassador Francis at Archangel.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the Latrobe stoves.

HUN PEACE FEELER OUT

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—An exchange of views between the Central Powers and the Entente was tentatively suggested by Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, in an address to visiting German newspapermen, according to a Vienna dispatch today. Such a discussion, said the Foreign Minister, need not take the form of peace negotiations, but would have as its purpose the consideration of all things which are keeping the belligerent powers apart.

Baron Burian advanced his suggestion in declaring that the adversaries of the Central Powers need only provide the opportunity in a calm exchange of views—some sort of direct, informative discussion is thinkable which would be far from being peace negotiations—or discussing and weighing everything which today separates the belligerent parties and no further fighting will perhaps be needed to bring them closer together."

"This question arises," said the foreign minister, "Isn't it a crime against humanity even to think of completely pulling down a structure which has become historical, and which certainly here and there, needs improvement, but is only capable of improvement, in order to found a paradise in future on its ruins? The defect in this, however, is that in accordance with the destructive methods of our enemies it can only be created with a much too great sacrifice.

"Count the past heatcombs of this war. Think of those to come, and ask whether striving to attain war aims at such a price is justifiable—war aims in which the principals of justice are put foremost—without investigating whether an understanding could not be reached by a fair application of that principle.

"It is unthinkable that even the most confident hopes of final victory could permit the enemy in the long run to avoid considering whether the most terrific exertions, and sacrifices can longer be justified in order to carry through principles which are not the enemy's monopoly or to regulate the affairs of other people who can manage them quite as well themselves.

"I believe that careful and sincere investigation would bring many on the other side to realize that they often are fighting for imaginary things. It may be an ungrateful task to want to communicate one's own perceptions of things to the enemy.

"The enemy group, if it wishes, can convince itself that in all questions of humanity and justice and of future international relations that it will encounter on the part of our group no opposition, and will be in line with our existing progressive aspirations. But at the same time it will meet our determination to continue steadfastly to stand up for our good right.

"Our adversaries need only provide an opportunity in a calm exchange of views—some sort of direct informative discussion is thinkable which would be far from being peace negotiations—of discussing and weighing everything which today separates the belligerent parties, and no further fighting will perhaps, be needed to bring them close together.

"But I would not delude you with baseless prospects of peace at a moment when the war fever still is shaking the world. I must, however, talk to you of peace because we all honestly want it and because we are certain there is an evergrowing number of like-minded persons in all enemy countries.

"We desire to contribute to the best of our ability to a mutual understanding and help to pave a way for conciliation. But, so long as necessary, we shall hold out in a loyal and reso-

A Resident Known to all Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Gazette have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Alexandria cases, told by Alexandria People.

William L. Nalls, 534 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe I thought they would kill me. My kidneys caused me a lot of annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store. A few doses relieved the misery in my back. I used three boxes and they put my kidneys in good condition and my back has'nt caused me any trouble since."

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. . .

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

Cadrinal Farley who has been gravely ill was pronounced out of danger yesterday by his physicians. He is very much improved and was able to leave his bed Monday morning.

Three men were killed and 22 persons were injured when an extra freight ran into the rear of a passenger train on the Boston and Main Railroad at Dummerston, Vermont, yesterday. All of those killed were in the rear car of the passenger train which was demolished. Two cars ahead were telescoped for half their length.
